Your intelligent workplace

Case Study

ONO

We want to congratulate ONO, one of our first customers, for having been awarded as Best Intranets of 2013. Here is what Nielsen Norman Group write about ONO's intranet:

"ONO's intranet team integrated a social networking and collaboration tool throughout the site. It turned a dated intranet of a company using email into an engaging site that encouraged [social] collaboration reflecting a corporate cultural change."

Every year Nielsen Norman Group, since 1998 a leading voice in the user experience field, publishes a list of the world's 10 best intranets.

We are proud that Beezy is a key component of ONO's intranet. This award proves that besides helping ONO employees to get their work done more efficient and effective, Beezy also contributes to cultural change.

If you are interested in knowing more about the topic of social integration and incorporating social sites, you can download the full report here.
